

Dear Member

You may already have heard that the UK data protection legislation is shortly to be tightened up. The current debacle with Facebook and Cambridge Analytica has brought the subject into sharp focus.

We have had data protection law in the UK since 1998 so there is nothing new in principle but the GDPR means that as the Board of Directors for Auto-Trail Owners' Club, we have to pay more attention to our record keeping.

The new law comes into effect on 25 May 2018 and the article above tells you what sort of information we have on our members, what we use it for, who has access to it and your rights in connection with it.
